Looking further out – our views of longer-term trends that inform our strategy.

Client Views
- Traditional expectations of price/quality trade-offs are breaking down all across our economy. Firms offering world-class relationships, digital experiences, service, and pricing will achieve market share gains.
- The concept of “beating the market” has given way to a client focus on financial planning, asset allocation, tax efficiency, and low-cost investing.
- Clients view robo-advice as a credible investment product, but investors of all ages will place their long-term trust in firms that offer a combination of people and digital experiences.

Growth
- Independent Registered Investment Advisors (RIAs) will continue to grow faster than the industry overall due to an acceleration of brokers turning independent and affluent consumers’ expectations for transparency and a fiduciary-standard experience.
- Though active management will still gather flows in certain asset classes, market cap and fundamental indexing will capture the majority of client asset flows.
- Long-term growth in retail investor trading volumes will continue to be modest and likely coupled with strategic pricing pressure.

Competition
- Fiduciary-standard advice, fee transparency, and increasingly lower advisory fees will become “cost of entry” and represent an increasing challenge to traditional brokerage firms’ growth and retention of their top brokers.
- Scale will play an increasingly large role in determining the “winners,” as costs related to cybersecurity, compliance, and regulatory oversight challenge the operational efficiency of sub-scale firms.
- Although brand matters, brand loyalty won’t ensure retention as consumers are more willing than ever to change providers in search of lower cost, greater transparency, and more objectivity.

Pricing
- Higher profit margins and scale-driven operational efficiency will make competition for self-directed investors and RIA custody services more intense.
- As a result of corporate fiduciary risks, 401(k) plan sponsors will grow ever more fee conscious while their paternalistic drive will ensure they look for ways to deliver more personalized advice to their employees.

Client Views
- Competition
- Pricing
Traditional expectations of price vs. quality are breaking down. Firms offering a no trade-offs position will achieve market share gains.

- 49% Increase in Total New-to-Retail Households
  - 43pts

- 6% Growth of Total Active Brokerage Accounts
  - 2pts

- 7% Organic Growth Rate of Total Client Assets
  - 2pts
...which, along with external factors, helped us to outperform our baseline scenario.

Revenue Growth

Gap between Revenue and Expense Growth
- 440bps
- 300bps
- 100bps

Pre-tax Profit Margin
- 41%
- 42%
Quarterly results include record revenues and the third consecutive pre-tax profit margin above 42%.

- Tenth consecutive quarter of record revenues.
- Net interest revenue and asset management and administration fees also set new quarterly records at $1.1 billion and $863 million, respectively.

Expenses rose 12%, consistent with our expectations, primarily due to:

- Increased compensation and benefits as a result of strong asset gathering and as we hired more client-facing employees to support growth.
- Higher project spending and other investments to help meet client expectations in the face of record volumes and lay the foundation for growth in 2018 and beyond.

Note: Taxes on income were increased by approximately $46 million in December 2017 due to the enactment of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act legislation resulting in the remeasurement of deferred tax assets (DTA) and other tax adjustments.
We managed the balance sheet in 2017 with the $250 billion threshold in mind.

Remained below the $250 billion consolidated asset threshold in 2017

Bank deposits grew in 2017, helped by organic cash and transfers of $2.9 billion in sweep deposits from Schwab One® to the Bank and $2.0 billion from money funds to the Bank

$15 billion of FHLB advances so investment could occur before sweep balances grow through deposits or bulk transfers

Issued $1.5 billion in senior notes in advance of 2018 maturities and for general corporate purposes

Ratio rose as we neared $250 billion; We intend to more fully deploy excess capital in 2018

Note: FHLB is Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco. Parent Liquidity equals Parent Working Capital plus Level 1 Securities (market value) as defined by the Liquidity Coverage Ratio rule. Tier 1 Leverage Ratio is based on Tier 1 Capital, which is End of Period Capital (Stockholders’ Equity less AOCI and other regulatory adjustments) divided by Average Total Consolidated Assets.

* Preliminary.
Our baseline scenario reflects investments to both fuel and support growth for 2018 and beyond.

Key Drivers:
- Market: S&P appreciates 6.5%
- Short-term Rates: Additional 25bps Fed Funds rate hike in June 2018 to 1.50%-1.75%
- Long-term Rates: Average 10-year Treasury at 2.55%
- Trading: DARTs up slightly year-over-year

Expected Results:
- Revenue Growth: Low Double Digit
- Gap between Revenue and Expense Growth: 200bps
- Minimum Pre-tax Profit Margin: 43%

Expected Results:
- Gap between Revenue and Expense Growth: 200bps
- Minimum Pre-tax Profit Margin: 43%
A June 2018 rate hike implies baseline NIM should average between 210-220.

Assumptions

- Likely to be some ongoing level of FHLB utilization throughout 2018
- We anticipate our approach to deposit pricing will remain consistent in 2018
- As we reach more normalized Fed Funds levels (2%+), we would expect to share more rate upside with clients

Net Interest Margin

Illustrative

Once we finish our bulk transfer opportunity, elevated rates could generate excess capital and we will evaluate options
Revenue sensitivities to the baseline scenario:

Key levers and estimated first year revenue impact to the baseline:

- S&P +/-1% = $15M
- DARTs +/-10% = $60M
- Target Fed Funds +/-25bps = $200-$300M
- 10-year Treasury +/-10bps = $25M

We anticipate the vast majority of any additional upside will fall to the bottom line.

Note: Assumes static interest earning asset balances as of December 31, 2017 and depends on the Bank investment portfolio mix and duration, to the extent there is a parallel shift in the yield curve, how quickly the fixed portfolio will reprice, and deposit betas.
If we see the three rate hikes the Fed currently anticipates, there is meaningful upside to the baseline.
Expense discipline goes both ways – “the Schwab path” means knowing when to “flex” and when to push forward.

We have a history of making investments to grow the top line faster than expenses through efficiency and scale.

Our 2018 spending growth is focused on three primary areas:
- Application Modernization
- Business Process Transformation
- Digital Accelerator
- Financial Consultants
- Client Reps
- Independent Branches
- Full-year Impact of 2017 Spending Ramp
- Contractual Increases
- Volume-related Costs: FTE, FDIC Assessments, Sub-advisory Fees
- General Inflation

With these efforts, our intent is to improve our key metrics over time, including CPS, the NNA Organic Growth Rate, and EOCA.
We expect a significant impact from tax reform.

Estimated 2018 Corporate Tax Rate

Note: *ASU 2016-09 impact, relating to equity compensation tax deductions, is estimated for 2018. Any potential ASU 2016-09 tax benefit is likely to be highest in 1Q18 and 4Q18 and overall will likely be lower than 2017. Actual results will depend upon many factors, including the price of SCHW stock, restricted stock vesting, and the volume of equity incentive options exercised.
Other than maintaining our target dividend payout ratio, the bulk transfer opportunity is our capital priority for 2018.

We will continue to monitor client cash and supplement with bulk transfers.

Illustrative

Determining Factors

- New Client Activity
  - We will continue to gather assets and clients will allocate some amount to cash.

- Existing Client Activity
  - Clients will decide:
    - how much to engage in the market
    - how much cash to put in non-bank alternatives

- Bulk Transfers

Resulting Action

Initial Expected Outcomes

- We expect the balance sheet to grow by at least 15% in 2018.
- We anticipate crossing $250 billion in the first half of 2018.
- We will pace the deployment of capital so that our Tier 1 Leverage Ratio gets closer to our operating objective of 6.75%-7.0% by year end.
- We still believe that the net bulk transfer opportunity of the ~$120 billion in sweep money market funds is $60-$80 billion.
We had a remarkable 2017 and are preparing to sustain accelerated growth in 2018.

- By doing right by our clients, we gathered record NNA, which helped generate record revenues and pre-tax profit margin
- We ended 2017 and are heading into 2018 with macro tailwinds – we are investing to both fuel and support growth
- In 2018, we will make progress on bulk transfers and continue to effectively manage capital

Our overall priorities are simple:

- Continued business growth through our client-first strategy
- Solid revenue growth through multiple sources
- Expense discipline leading to enhanced performance
We are raising our sights to build the Schwab of tomorrow – it’s time.

- 2017 was a remarkable year and demonstrates our “Through Clients’ Eyes” strategy and Virtuous Cycle working as intended – we take disruptive actions on behalf of our clients and they reward us.

- Key to our success has been our discipline, and exercising discipline means knowing when to “flex” and when to push forward.

- After gathering the most assets ever and posting record revenues and profitability, it’s time to invest more, to extend our competitive advantage, to raise our sights.

- To prepare Schwab not just for 2018, but for 5, 10, or even 20 years beyond that, we must make investments that both fuel and support growth.
