Exercise your freedom of choice.

Our service options put you in control of what matters most to your company, enabling you to manage staff workloads as well as costs. Your choices for administration include:

- Full service. By outsourcing all administration to Schwab, you can reduce your staff's workload, potentially reduce costs, and help improve your plan's efficiency. You'll also benefit from working with our experienced stock plan administration staff.
- Co-sourced. Choose the level of services appropriate for your company within the various areas of day-to-day administration. Select the level of control you need for your business, and free up duties from overloaded staff where you see fit.
- Brokerage-only. Choose this option if you simply need access to brokerage services for managing your employees' equity awards while you continue to administer the plan in-house with your recordkeeping system. You shift only employee support and service to Schwab.

However you choose to work with us, you'll have a team committed to championing ownership for you and your employees and dedicated to helping you achieve your company's vision. We'll provide:

- Service account setup and conversion support to help you through the transition
- Responsive client servicing to provide strategic, consultative support to address your ongoing needs and those of your employees
- Education resources that empower your employees, including live on-site seminars and services for executives

What's more, every one of your participants will have access to additional service and guidance at no additional cost. No matter your choice of administration, your employees can speak to our Equity Award Consultation Team to get answers to their specific questions and help thinking through their financial goals. This team of licensed and experienced professionals is committed to providing employees at every level with personalized information and consultative guidance. This guidance helps them better understand the value of their equity awards and how to use them to reach their financial goals.

Platform support to meet your needs.

Our flexible, web-based platform, Schwab StockPlanManager®, is your entry point for managing your program. With Schwab StockPlanManager, simply log in for secure access to:

- A secure exchange of employee equity award information between stock plan administrators and Schwab
- The ability to enact required restrictions and set or control blackout periods for select employees
- Functionality to post real-time messages and documents for employees on their participant website
- Web-based tools for filing SEC Forms 3, 4, and 5, as well as an insider's holding database—Schwab Section 16 Center™—that tracks direct and indirect share ownership in one convenient location

From inside the Schwab StockPlanManager platform, employers choosing full or co-sourced administration have access to additional tools and resources from Schwab's proprietary, web-based, end-to-end recordkeeping system, Schwab EquiView®

Intuitive and user-friendly, Schwab EquiView is designed to adapt to changing business needs and to handle evolving equity award programs. This complete solution lets you:

- Connect to your company's payroll and human resources (HR) systems for up-to-date employee demographic and tax-withholding data
- Schedule regular reports or generate real-time, on-demand reports to view activity, grants outstanding, and corporate share and proxy information
- Automatically create, mail, and post all participant notifications and statements
- Complete your valuation, accounting, and reporting for ASC 718 and IFRS 2—integrated with the core recordkeeping database
- Simplify tracking and reporting of tax withholding for mobile employees—included in EquiView at no additional cost

Your go-to ally.

Your Client Service Manager (CSM) is your go-to person for day-to-day plan administration support. And rather than an 800 number, you'll have a direct line to your CSM so that you can easily contact the person most knowledgeable about your business needs.

One of your CSM's main tasks is to help your company learn how to use and take full advantage of our online plan administration tools. Your internal departments, such as payroll, finance, legal, and HR, will work with your CSM to discover how to use the web tools to automate as much as possible—including reporting and data management—freeing up time for other work.
